Student Name (Last, First Middle):_____ ID Number: 93_____

Student Email:_____ Expected Graduation Date: _____

Note: Students with two majors may not declare a minor. A student's minor must differ from their declared major.

Declared Major:_____

In practice, many minors declare their minor after completing most of their course work, but ideally you will choose the courses for your English Minor in consultation with a departmental advisor.

A common question: If I list a class on this form that I am planning to take, must I take that class or can I make substitutions?
The answer: You can make substitutions as long as you meet the requirements for the minor. It's always a good idea to consult with your advisor if you have questions or concerns about changes you are making.

Term	1XX or 2XX	3XX or 4XX	Course Title		Credits
INTRODUCTORY METHODS COURSE While ENGL 250 can be taken at any point in your studies, we strongly recommend you take it early on.
	ENGL250		Interpreting Literature		3
DISTRIBUTION REQUIREMENTS A single course may fulfill up to two distribution requirements. Note: DegreeWorks sometimes does not automatically recognize courses that can count for two distribution requirements. If that happens to you and you would like DegreeWorks to count for two requirements, first confirm that course does meet those requirements and then simply e-mail degreeaudit@wm.edu and explain exactly which course you are using to satisfy which requirements; it's a good idea to cc your advisor. If you do double count some courses, their credits only count once toward the total credits required for the major (36). All of these courses must be numbered 300 or above. Codes: B4 1900=Lit Before 1900 (any courses with the attributes BLB, BLT, and ALB) LS=Lit Since 1900 CR=Constructions of Race

MINOR ELECTIVES Amongst your elective courses, you can count three credits at the 300-400 level in creative writing (CRWR) or expository writing (WRIT). Students may take three credits English linguistics courses toward your major. The English linguistics courses that can be counted are: ENGL 230; LING 250; ENGL/LING 303: LING 308; ENGL/LING 400; and ENGL/LING 410. You may also count one approved literature course taken in any of the Modern Languages or Classical Civilization, either in another language or in translation. Approved courses are listed on the English Department's website. Students may seek approval for courses not on this list by petitioning the English Department chair. A maximum of three credits in this section can come from courses at the 100 and 200 levels.
TOTAL CREDITS Minimum 21, at least 15 of which must be in courses numbered 300 and above.

Note: Courses completed for a minor may not be taken on a Pass/Fail basis. Student must earn at least a 2.00 grade point average in the minor. At least 9 credits toward the minor must be taken in residence.

I understand that if the courses to be used were transferred to William & Mary after matriculation as elective credits (1XX, 2XX, etc.), or if they are not labeled as a course(s) that can meet the requirements of this minor, as outlined in the catalog, then the Committee on Degrees approval must be attached.
