FREN 386. This course is offered as a COLL 300 course with no prerequisites and does not count for the French major. The instructor clarified that the department has another topics course number that may have prerequisites and does count for the major. The course was approved for course change and COLL 300.

RUSN 381. The instructor for this course checked both lecture and seminar on the three submitted curriculum proposals. This has been an ongoing point of confusion for instructors submitting proposals. The categorization is useful for scheduling. Cory will work with others to clarify the question or to make the question only allow one response. The course was approved for new course, COLL 200, and COLL 300.

No new business.
