Important Policy Requirements

- ❖ Employees Working Outside of Virginia but within the US: The Hiring Department should notify the university via email as soon as practical but no later than 60 days prior to the employee's intended job start date to ensure that payroll and benefits are established correctly for these employees.
- ❖ Current Employees Who Will Reside and Work Outside of the US in Another Country: The Hiring Department must provide notification to the university at least 120 calendar days prior to the start date of employment.

These deadlines are firm and necessary to insure that the university is compliant with the related laws and regulatory requirements of the other state or country.

Failure to notify the university within these timelines may result in financial or legal penalties to the university AND additional administrative fees may be charged to the Hiring Department.

Responsibilities

As an agency, we are legally liable to identify, withhold, remit, and report taxes for employees who reside and/or work outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The Hiring Department, Human Resources and Financial Operations teams all have specific responsibilities when it comes to the employment and compensation of these out-of-state employees.

EXAMPLE: HD1 corresponds to Slide 6: “1- Identifies business need to hire an out-of-state employee”

Challenges to the Process

- ❖ State registrations can be complex and lengthy, which could result in significant delays before an employee may begin working
- ❖ Compliance can be jeopardized by employees who are transitioned into a telecommuting position without the required approvals and/or notification to ALL of the Out-of-State Employee Teams
- ❖ Administrative costs to hire an employee in a new state or country can be cost prohibitive, as it may necessitate outside consultants to ensure compliance
- ❖ Failure by the employee to submit proper withholding forms may result in dual tax withholdings
- ❖ Failure by the Hiring Department to notify the university of an employee's employment situation could significantly impact the employee's tax filings

Reciprocity Agreement

A reciprocal agreement also called reciprocity, is an agreement between two states that allows residents of one state to request exemption from tax withholding in the other (reciprocal) state.

- VIRGINIA:

- If you are a resident of Kentucky or the District of Columbia and commute on a daily basis to work in Virginia, then you're "EXEMPT" (not subject to) Virginia income tax withholding. You must file an Employee's Virginia Income Tax Withholding Exemption Certificate (Form VA-4) with your employer each calendar year you claim an exemption.
- If you are a resident of Maryland, Pennsylvania or West Virginia whose ONLY Virginia source income is from salaries and wages and such wages are subject to income taxation by your resident state, then you're "EXEMPT" (not subject to) Virginia income tax withholding. You must file an Employee's Virginia Income Tax Withholding Exemption Certificate (Form VA-4) with your employer each calendar year you claim an exemption.
- ONLY the above noted states have reciprocal agreements with Virginia. Residents of all other states are subject to Virginia income tax withholdings for all salaries and wages earned in Virginia.

A reciprocal agreement also called reciprocity, is an agreement between two states that allows residents of one state to request exemption from tax withholding in the other (reciprocal) state.

- DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA:

- If you are NOT a resident of the District of Columbia, you must file a Certificate of Non-residence in DC (Form D-4A) with your employer to establish that you are not subject to the District of Columbia income tax withholding. You qualify as a nonresident if your permanent residence is outside DC during all of the tax year AND you do not reside in the District of Columbia for 183 days or more in the tax year or you are a service member's spouse.
