

4 August 2023

Good afternoon and happy Friday from the W&M Bray School Lab and Office of Strategic Cultural Partnerships at William & Mary! We are writing to let you know that our Summer 2023 workshops, presented in partnership with W&M Libraries, continue next week with two free Oral History Workshops next week, on Monday, August 7th at 6:30 PM and Saturday, August 12th at 10:30 AM.

In these FREE introductory oral history workshop, your workshop leaders will educate attendees in all the steps to create and conduct an oral history project. Attendees will be instructed in research methods, the art of the interview, oral history legalities, and how to store and preserve the interviews.

Andre Taylor and Tonia Merideth, Oral Historians from William & Mary and the William & Mary Bray School Lab, will be your instructors for Oral History 'How To'. With their expertise and passion for storytelling, they will guide you through the art and techniques of oral history.

This workshop is designed to be accessible and accommodating to all, whether you attend just once or multiple times. Bring your questions and your curiosity; the content may evolve based on your interests, questions, and active participation.

We look forward to welcoming you to our Oral History workshops and embarking on a transformative journey of storytelling and cultural preservation together. We invite you to keep up to date with all of the happenings at the W&M Bray School Lab, including the rest of our Summer workshops, by following our Facebook page here:

<https://go.wm.edu/qF6dd7>

Sincerely yours,

Danny Devlin, Ph.D.
He/Him/His
Senior Director of Outreach & Engagement
Strategic Cultural Partnerships
William & Mary
757-221-5758 | Dfdevlin01@wm.edu

You are receiving this email because you have previously signed up to join the W&M Strategic Cultural Partnerships email list. To unsubscribe from this email, reply to this message with "UNSUBSCRIBE" in the subject line.

